Where the Work Gets Done.

In business, products and services must be delivered to the client on time and without error. And it's the behind-the-scenes processes that make this outcome possible.

Sicora Consulting shows you how the relentless pursuit of quality brings about improved capabilities and superiority, equipping you to withstand the rigors of the market.

We utilize Lean Six Sigma methods to create service delivery efficiencies and build improvements in any process. Quality products and services represent more than prowess and capability, they set the relationship tone between you and your customers.

Continuous Improvement Team Leaders

Utilizing a proven training model, we can partner to bring Lean-Six Sigma to you.

Participants are part of a cohort, where they attend training sessions as a group at regular intervals (1 day/month, for example). Between sessions, participants work on real projects practicing their newly honed skills within your organization.

Training topics include:

- Foundations of Continuous Improvement
- Lean
- Systems Thinking
- Process Mapping
- Cost-Benefit Analysis
- Measuring Work Processes
- Balanced Scorecard
- Facilitating Teams
- 5S Organization
- Team Leadership
- Project Management

Continuous Improvement Team Leaders become the ambassadors for change within your organization. By combining training and real-world application, you see both personal and organizational growth after the very first day.

Train a team of leaders for your organization

Right-sized learning for your unique needs

Fiscally responsible solution to manage change

Measure work in a meaningful way

Create a culture of Continuous Improvement
