

SICORA
CONSULTING

Dr. Robert T. Sicora | Speaker

Founder & CEO of Sicora Consulting

After spending years working in corporations such as Pfizer, Pillsbury, Carlson, Eaton, and Cargill, Dr. Robert Sicora has spent the last decade providing solutions to organizations of all sizes and industries worldwide. Robert has helped thousands of leaders and employees chart a path toward a greater purpose for themselves and their organizations using a holistic, research-based methodology called Leading from the Helm. He further expanded his model to the individual with his book, Grab the Helm: Navigating with Purpose. Armed with this methodology and the book - which participants receive as part of any presentation, Robert brings the expertise and passion around engagement, trust-building, and organizational performance that you are looking for to inspire, engage, and ignite your crew!

Robert is known for being an interactive, experiential speaker, giving participants opportunities to apply what they are learning immediately. He brings the story of data to life, creating a dynamic discussion that will add depth and meaning to any event. Whether it's 30 minutes or 3 hours, you can expect Robert to leave everyone inspired to tap into their unique leadership qualities so they can take command with purpose.

Presentations can be tailored to your specific needs and for a variety of events and programs including:

Keynotes
Corporate Events

Conferences
Team Building

Retreats
Leadership Offsites

Contact us to inquire about in-person and virtual speaking appearances by Dr. Sicora at:

crew@sicoraconsulting.com
+1-888-724-5384