

8 FACTORS OF ENGAGEMENT PROFILE

Putting the Employee back in Employee Engagement

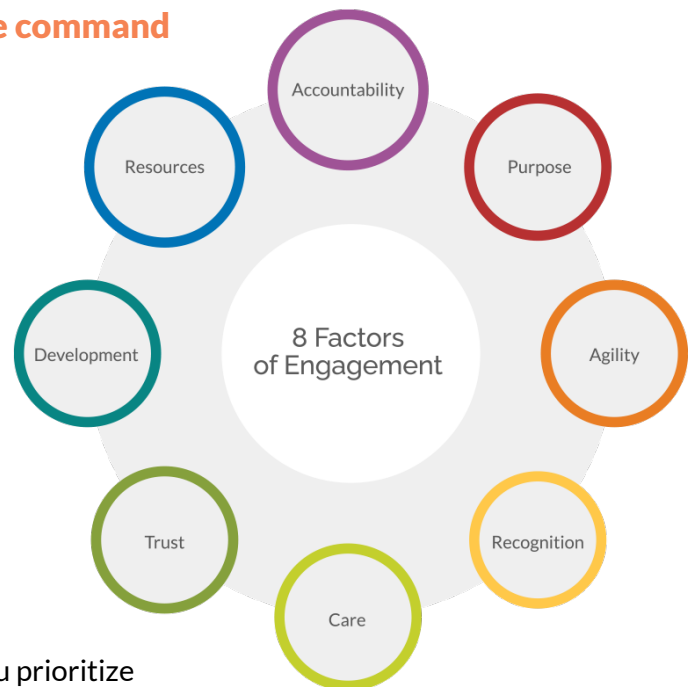

Employee Engagement is a leading indicator of performance for every organization. Knowing exactly what factors to work on to help drive engagement can be difficult to determine and for leadership to take the correct action to improve.

So, why not empower employees to take command of their own engagement?

The 8 Factors of Engagement is the most balanced and holistic model of engagement on the market. It identifies the leading indicators behind engagement and provides transformative insight for employees, teams, leaders, and organizations.

For the past 6+ years organizations and employees all over the world have used the 8 Factors of Engagement to transform their work environment to an employee led culture of engagement and performance.

Now, you and everyone you would like to share this with, will have the opportunity to experience the 8 Factors of Engagement and receive your individual profile of engagement that will help you prioritize and take action that is meaningful and sustainable.

We are inviting everyone the opportunity to experience the 8 Factors of Engagement.
